WELLNESS: A WAY OF LIFE

It's no coincidence that four of the six letters in health heal.

- Ed Northstrum

HOLISTIC HEALING

Holistic Healing is the quest for optimal health and wellness of a human being. The word 'holistic' simply encompasses the mind, body, and spirit, which can bring out the healthiest, happiest version of us. It empowers individuals to take responsibility for the development of their abilities.

Numerous activities along with education provide students with the tools they need to manage multiple responsibilities and develop positive relationships. This brings out the happiness quotient in every student making them achievers in their field.

The holistic approach at St. Stephen's encourages students to perform better academically, promote overall well-being, brings creativity and innovation, and develops leadership skills.

To meet the rigours of the world, students need to have a holistic approach to the 21st Century Skills, the support of the four Cs, namely, critical thinking, creative thinking, communication, and collaboration.

This was evident in our students' whole hearted participation in the School activities as well as inter-school fests and district level tournaments where they won laurels. These activities helped identify the talents of students and exposed them to the right opportunity.

A holistic approach is all about a balance in life, and Stephanians show the same fevour in academics as they do in co-curricular activities.

To end with a quote, "Healing begins when we treat ourselves with the same kindness and compassion we offer to others."

'Memories may fade as the years go by but they won't age a day.'

Memorial Lectures preserve the legacy and memory of individuals who have had a significant impact on those associated with it. The Dr. (Mrs.) Deepa Martins Memorial Lecture is always a much awaited event as the School celebrates the birth anniversary of our Founder Secretary Dr. (Mrs.) Deepa Martins by inviting eminent speakers whose thoughts and works radiate the values and beliefs she practiced throughout her life. We were honoured to have the keynote speakers, Ms. Aruna Roy, social activist and recipient of the Ramon Magsaysay Award, Shri Bunker Roy, noted social activist, an educator and the founder of Barefoot College, Tilonia and Shri Shankar Singh, RTI activist and founder member Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan at the Twentieth Dr. (Mrs.) Deepa Martins Memorial Lecture on April 5, 2023. The speakers were accompanied by Shri Ramnivas, Shri Ramlal and Shri Satyanarayan from the communication team of the Barefoot College. The speakers delivered the keynote address in a conversational style and called it 'Baaton Baaton Mein'- The Journey of the Barefoot College Social Work and Research Centre (SWRC) Tilonia and the Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan (MKSS). They gave us a deep insight into the 50 years of struggle and achievements of the Barefoot College, Tilonia as well 33 indefatigable years of the organization in an interactive session through songs and visuals.

Both the organizations have played instrumental roles in empowering marginalized communities and addressing critical issues. The Barefoot College, founded by social activist Shri Bunker Roy, focuses on providing education and training to rural communities, with a particular emphasis on empowering women. Their approach involves encouraging local knowledge and self-reliance, enabling individuals to become agents of change within their own communities.

The lecture also highlighted the innovative programmes of the Barefoot College such as training rural women to become solar engineers, healthcare providers and educators.

The foundation of the Mazdoor Kisan Shakti Sangathan was laid in a small hut at Devdungri, and achieved a new dimension after undergoing through various struggles. It is an organization that played a pivotal role in advocating transparency and accountability through the RTI Act in India. This organization founded by Ms. Aruna Roy and Shri Shankar Singh, mobilized rural workers and farmers to demand their rights and access to information.

Ms. Aruna Roy said that we can learn aspects of life even while living in the midst of rural environment. She emphasized on how the process of democracy was understood through children's parliament and got inspired to adopt the message of the constitution. She also said that we should feel proud to be a Rajasthani because the credit goes to Rajasthan as the movement for the RTI started here. The lecture shed light on the significant milestones achieved by MKSS and their relentless efforts in empowering citizens to hold government and institutions accountable. Shri Shankar Singh, provided further insights into the organization's journey and its collaboration with the Barefoot College.

He spoke about the synergies between the two organizations and how they have worked together to promote social justice, rural empowerment, and sustainable development. He also discussed the role of movements in advocating social change and the challenges faced in their journey.

Ms. Roy concluded with a slogan on justice and equality, 'Nyaya samanta ho aadhar, aisa rachenge hum sansar'. The lecture inspired the audience to carry forward the vision of social justice and empowerment. It provided a platform for knowledge-sharing and reflection on the remarkable journeys of the Barefoot College and MKSS, emphasizing their contributions toward creating a more inclusive and equitable society.

The endeavour of imparting valuable education started long back in the year 1985 with a 'dream' nurtured by sheer dedication and perseverance, fortified by unrelenting hard work and passion of our founders, Shri Gilroy Martins and Dr. (Mrs.) Deepa Martins who established our School on July 4, 1985. The dream of providing holistic education to the students of Ajmer, along with values and principles started with humble beginnings. Today, St. Stephen's is an established name in the field of education. We paid tribute to the legacy of our founders by rekindling the testimony of their strength, talents and the many lives that they touched. The programme began with the lighting of the lamp before the portraits of Shri Gilroy Martins and Dr. (Mrs.) Deepa Martins. The School choir presented a melodious song 'Showers of Blessings' that gave the message of hope, gratitude and a reminder of God's unfailing love and provision. A medley manifesting the immense power of music and dance was presented, which was followed by an English Skit titled 'The Journey to Wellness: Embracing School and Support', which focused on the importance of taking help from mentors and peers.

Responsibility comes with being inheritors of a proud and rich legacy.

A MATTER OF TIME

Healing has power,
It's like the blooming of a flower.
Healing can be emotional or physical,
But it is very visible.

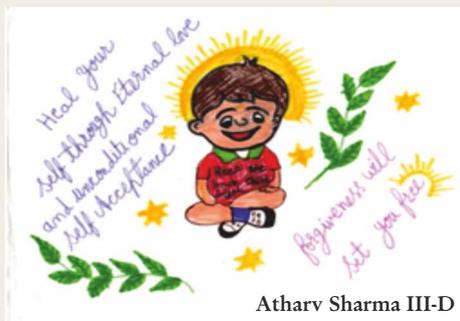

Healing is a boon,
Will fill the empty spaces soon.
Heal before you deal,
Take all the time you feel.

Time is a great healer,
It is said by a believer.
Believe me or not,
Time will open that knot.

Some day your heart will melt at its own pace,
But this process will take place.
Everything will be fine,
It will fill spaces soon.

Healing is power,
It's like the blooming of a flower.
Healing is a boon,
It will fill all the empty spaces soon.

UNSPOKEN EMOTIONS

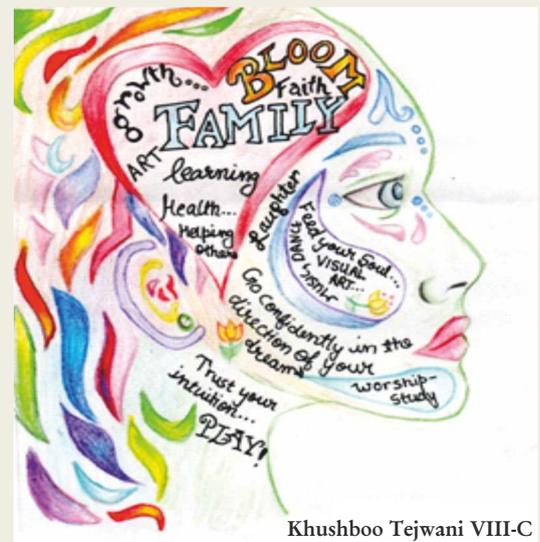

So many things I have to say,
So many words I wish to say,
So much hidden anger inside,
But, I've left it all behind.

What do I have to say?
What do I want to say?
And, what should I say?

I can no longer read your face,
Memories fade in and out,
Confusion blinds true emotions,
I miss myself... I have my doubts.

All my understanding, old and worn
I wonder why I didn't tell myself.
I miss all that has gone
All that came from within.

HEAL THE WORLD

Beneath the enigmatic world,
There lie many troubles curled.

The hardships we feel,
Warn the World to heal.

People must be compassionate,
Amid circumstances, unfortunate.

Let new flowers of hope shimmer,
Let people feel hope's glimmer.

If we work together,
We shall achieve everyone's dream.

Let us make our world alleviated,
Let us rebuild what God has created.

DESIRE FOR HEALING

I don't want to write all wrongs,
I only to want to write my songs.
I'm a poet on my own,

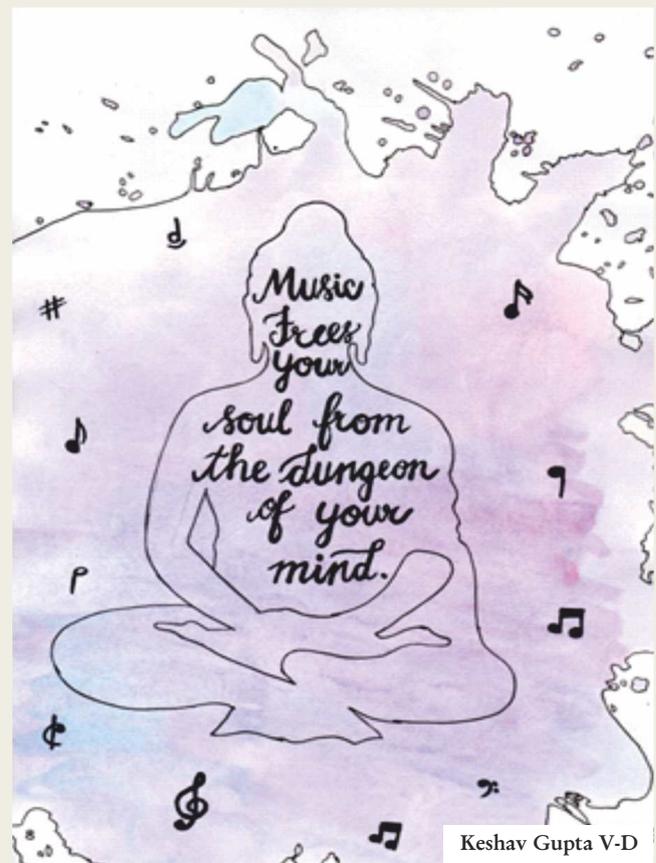

Wishing only to be left alone.

There are places I want to go,
People and faces I don't know.
I'll sing along my way,
And I'll be great someday.

They will praise my songs,
I'll hide from mobbing throngs.
Everyone will know my name,
And I'll have the protection of my fame.

Until then, I'm a poet on my own,
Wishing only to be left alone.
I'll sing along my way,
And I'll be great someday.

PATIENCE IN HEALING

Be patient with yourself,
My friends, parents and teachers.

Healing takes time,
Healing implies kindness.
Healing means change.
Some flowers bloom early, while others,
they await,
In the garden of your soul.
Be patient with yourself, for your story to tell.

उपचारात्मकता (हृदय की)

हालातों से लड़ना हमने भी सीख लिया है,
उपचारात्मकता को अपनी ढाल बना लिया है।

आँसुओं को पोंछकर, नई उड़ान भरी है,
अंधेरों को हमने अपनी नई आस दी है।

दिखा दिया है दुनिया को हम नहीं हैं रुकने वाले,
किसी की दगाबाज़ी से नहीं हैं घबराने वाले।

उपचारात्मकता ने इरादों को अटल किया है,
नई प्रेरणा, नए उजाले का साथ दिया है।

अपने संकल्पों पर हमने अमल किया है,
उपचारात्मकता तूने क्या कमाल किया है।

रिश्तों का उपचार

खुदा ही जाने
समय कैसे बीता
जब हमारे बचपन के साथ ही
हमारे अनोखे रिश्ते भी यादों में
सिमटकर रह गए।

हवा के रुख के साथ
प्यार के रिश्ते ही चले गए
पानी के तेज़ भाव के साथ
रिश्तों की कीमत ही ख़त्म हो गई।

कैसा ये दौर आया
जब अपना तो कोई नहीं
पर पराया कहलाने को
हर कोई आया।

लेकिन कभी तो वो सुबह आएगी
जब सूरज की तरह रिश्ते जगमगाएँगे
जब रिश्तों की दीवार फिर मजबूत हो जाएगी
प्यार और खुशियों से भरा होगा वातावरण।

ज़िंदगी के हर कदम पर जब, अपने साथ होंगे
तो ज़िंदगी का सफर सुहाना हो जाएगा
वो दिन भी दूर नहीं
जब हर बेगाना अपना कहलाएगा।
